2011 Moral Courage Award Nomination

The Hillsborough County Board of County Commissioners created an award in 1992 to recognize residents and community groups who demonstrate exceptional ethical behavior and moral courage to challenge the actions of government. Nominations are open to all County residents. The Citizens Advisory Committee to the County Commission reviews all nominations and chooses as a finalist the individual or group whose actions and accomplishments clearly demonstrate the shared community values of high ethical behavior and the courage to challenge government actions that are not in the community's interest. The County Commissioners then approve the winner. This award is presented during a regular meeting of the County Commissioners. It will be given only in years when such individuals/groups merit recognition.
