The 'Bypass' option allows the applicant to skip the Application Review and pay all review fees at the time of application. The attestation must be acknowledged during the residential application process.

Please note: Currently, this option is not available to owner/builder applicants or private providers. In the future, the Development Services Department will look at expanding the option.

- 1) Log in to the portal.
- 2) Create a new Residential New Construction & Additions, Residential Building Alterations, or Residential Miscellaneous application.
- 3) Acknowledge the Bypass Application Review attestation.

BYPASS APPLICATION REVIEW

I request by-passing the payment of the Application Fee and the staff Application Review task and proceed to payment of the Plan Review Fee and distribution of construction plans for review. I declare that this building permit application along with all construction plans, documents and pertinent information, as required by the appropriate application instructions located in the County's website, is complete and ready for code review. I understand that the omission of required information or the inclusion of inaccurate data will result in the construction plans being denied, therefore causing possible penalties on subsequent submissions and significant delay in the successful processing of the building permit.

- 4) Continue the application process.
